

GLARING BLUNDERS

Discovered in the Newly Adopted Municipal Code of Ohio.

So Flagrant are These So Called Errors That There Seems no Doubt That They were Deliberately Made.

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Private Secretary to Governor Nash, Mr. Frederick N. Sinks, has discovered two bad errors in the new municipal code, both in the section governing the actions of the board of public safety when acting as a civil service commission. The effect is, in one case, to make the section meaningless and in the other to make it contradictory.

The errors are so glaring as to lead necessarily to the conclusion that they did not slip in by mistake, but were made, and that some one whose duty it was to see that the code was correct, deliberately made changes that would make the section of no effect.

It is possible, however, that the errors may find enough in the context to make a construction upon that will save the defects.

There was great objection to the adoption of any kind of civil service in the new code by the party press and politicians of the state, and it is believed that they took advantage of the defects in the code to prevent its adoption.

The following is the section in question and it is now on file as a copy in the office of the secretary of state.

Section 164—From the results of the examination made by said board, a register for each grade or class of position in the classified service of such city, of the names of the persons whose general average standing upon such examination for such grade or class, is not less than the minimum fixed by the rules of said register as candidates in the order of their relative examination as determined by examination, without reference to priority of the time of examination.

Both of the errors are near the bottom of the section. The first occurs in the lines "not less than the minimum fixed by the rules of said board, and where otherwise eligible." The word "where"—the third from the last in the quotation, takes the place of the words "who are" in the original bill. The effect of this is to make bad construction and doubtful meaning to an important part of the code.

The other error is the more important one. It occurs just below the first one. The section continues from the close of the above notation, "and such persons shall rank upon the register as candidates in the order of their relative examination." The last word—examination—was changed from excellence in the original bill. As it stands alone it would mean that applications for positions must be appointed in the order of their examination without regard to how they stood in the examination. However, the context immediately following adds a contradiction, for it says "as determined by examination, without reference to priority of time of examination."

VOTE

Will be Compared With That of

One Year Ago

When Kilbourne and Nash were Candidates

The Two State Chairmen Agreed Upon Uniform Plan of Action.

How the Recent Decisions Will Affect the Prisoners Now Behind the Walls of the Ohio Penitentiary.

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Chairman Dick and Chairman Garber of the Republican and Democratic state committees respectively, have agreed to compare the vote this year with that of one year ago when Nash was elected governor over Kilbourne by a plurality of 67,587.

Chairman Garber says that he will not issue any anti-election statement, though he says he has great faith in the result, and predicts the election of seven Democratic congressmen. He includes in this estimate the Third and Twelfth. He says that Badger will defeat Huling in this the twelfth district, by from 800 to 1,000.

Four Hundred Would Go Free.

It is estimated that if all the prisoners behind the penitentiary walls are released after being tried, under the present jury laws, that fully four hundred will be restored to freedom. However, a large number of them will not ask for another trial, and that is brought about by a number of circumstances. The rule is that men who have nearly served out their terms will not ask for new trials, but the long term men, as a rule, will put in a vigorous claim for rehearing as soon as the law has been declared unconstitutional.

The life men are especially in that position, as the courts have already given them all there is in the books. Under the circumstances even if they are given another life sentence they will have succeeded in getting out of the big prison for a short time. On the other hand, he convicted for the same class of crime, if for even a lesser crime.

Getting the Best of Small Pox.

For the week ending October 25, there were 75 cases in 18 places in 14 counties, so that four counties have stamped out the disease in three weeks.

Another Piece of the Capitol Fell In. One of the large stones in the north front steps to the capitol, fell Tuesday night. For some time Capt. J. L. Freezing and thawing does the rest. The whole step structure will have to be torn down and put up anew.

ONCE FAMOUS

Customs Case Came Up for Argument Today.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 30.—The customs protest case of Reid, Murdoch & Co., of Chicago, which in its earlier stages of litigation before the board of general appraisers and the United States circuit court attracted wide-spread interest, came up for argument today before the federal circuit court of appeals for the Seventh district.

The question at issue is whether the duty on currants should be imposed upon the government weight of the article, according to the find and record of the weighing officers, or whether the duty should be imposed upon the weight determined after subjecting the merchandise to a cleaning process.

IT IS DOUBTFUL
If Local Applications Alone Ever Cured a Case of Catarrh.

Most remedies for the treatment of catarrh are in the form of sprays, inhalers, powders, washes or salves, all purely local applications and many of them often give temporary relief, but the reason none of them ever really cure chronic catarrh is because catarrh is not a local disease and it cannot be cured simply by treating the local symptoms.

Moreover the more serious forms of catarrh, like catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bronchial tubes, cannot be reached at all by local applications and the fact that neglected catarrh of the head very soon involves the bronchial tubes, stomach and liver demonstrates that the disease is a blood disorder, a constitutional malady and not at all a local disease.

To really cure catarrh the system must be cleansed from catarrhal poison by an internal remedy which acts effectively upon the blood and liver.

The success of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous lining of the nose, throat and trachea are freed from the excessive mucus which collects and causes the hacking, spitting and gagging because the excessive secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain many of the same valuable antiseptics used in sprays and inhalers but instead of being applied to the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat they are taken into the stomach and thus reach the blood the real seat and cause of the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges composed of Red Gum, Hydrastin, Bloodroot and similar catarrh specifics, and so safe to use that little children suffering from colds take them with same beneficial results as adult persons.

No trace of cocaine or opiates or common in catarrh medicines can be found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

TO THE PUBLIC.
A statement has been published in a new paper of this city indirectly implying that The Fidelity Coal Co. had complained of the C. H. & D. supply fuel to its men, from the waste lumber or from its coal supply. It is only fair to us to say we have been in the coal business in Lima for three years. We have never directly or indirectly made such a complaint to any railroad. We try to attend strictly to our own business to keep the price of coal down to the lowest possible point consistent with good sense and citizenship. In other words we use our best endeavors to give to the public fair just and courteous treatment. We ask only the same in return.

Statement From Mr. Cory.
No complaint has been made by The Fidelity Coal Co. to this company at any time against their supplying their employees with any kind of fuel.

NEVER ASK ADVICE.
When you have a cough or cold don't ask what is good for it and get some medicine with little or no merit and perhaps dangerous. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar, the greatest throat and lung remedy, it cures coughs and colds quickly.

Tuesday, November 4, is the date of a big political gathering. Let every Democrat be present. Hon. Common Sense and Hon. Rights of the People are to be the speakers. The meeting will be an all day affair and will be held at the polls.—Marion Mirror.

Democrats, do not listen to any trading propositions made by the Republican brethren who are endeavoring to assist the Hall-Verneer-Ashton-Morris-gang win at the coming election. Trading is a game in which the Democrats have all to lose and nothing to gain.

Judging from the frantic appeals of the Republican press to all voters who believe that "stand pat" is a great moral issue to rout Gen. Ashton, there is alarm at Republican headquarters that a majority of voters in Ohio will take Hanna's advice and "stand pat"—Columbus Press.

Democratic friends, you may be a candidate next year. When you are do you imagine for a moment that Hall, Ashton, Verneer, Morris and any of the other Republican bosses will vote for you? You may rest assured they will not. What they want is to see you this year to help bolster their ticket up. Next year they will ridicule you for being "easy."

Each day that passes brings to light some very blundering, either intentional or otherwise, in the new municipal code of Ohio. The country has been dumfounded in the adoption of that fearful and wonderful document was enough to damn the Republican party which created it. But now comes to light the further fact that it was not even honestly created, but ambiguous paragraphs were inserted into it for the sole purpose of misleading and humbugging the people.

Every Democrat should give his personal attention to getting out the vote this fall. With proper effort the majority in this county could be made 1,500. It ought not to fall below 1,000 at the least. The personnel of the ticket, county, district and state is incentive enough to induce earnest work.

The Republican committee has contributed to the campaign literature of Allen county a carefully written essay on "Off Years," in which it beseeches all good Republicans to not permit this to be an off year, but to go to the polls and vote. It is very apparent that the managers of the party of trusts has become suspicious that the rank and file of the Republican party is now in sympathy with that proposition, and will evidence its disapproval by staying at home from the polls on election day. There is no doubt as to the Republican party being guilty of many sins of omission and commission, and the best way for those who disapprove of them to bring about a change of heart in the bosses who control the party, will be to go to the polls and vote the Democratic ticket.

The following is the very remarkable language used editorially in the columns of the Chicago Record Herald (Republican) with reference to the political condition of affairs in Pennsylvania and its bearing on the coal strike:

Pennsylvania, politically the most rotten state in the Union has a disgraceful law. By it mine owners go to the big cities, hire bums, ex-convicts, discharge policemen, drunken sailors, the riff-raff of the streets and the lodging houses, and bring them to the mines. They "recommend" these hirelings to the governor, and, without inquiry, without knowledge, apparently without concern, the governor issues commissions to them. The operators put badges on the Hessians, place weapons in their hands and thus the coal and iron police are created.

POLITICAL REGRESS IN THE STATE OF OHIO.

Some time ago the supreme court of Ohio decided that the existing municipal governments of the state were unconstitutional because they were created by special legislation, which the state constitution forbids.

Thereupon Governor Nash convened the legislature in special session to provide the municipalities with governments which would pass muster in the courts.

The legislature met and has just adjourned after fitting out the seventy-two municipalities of the state with a form of government embodying all the ideas of Cincinnati's political boss, George B. Cox. Mr. Cox is an expert in the art of making a city government an effective part of a party machine. He has shown how to do it in his Cincinnati plan, and the legislature has spread the method all over the state.

Under the plan most of the power of each of the municipal corporations will be exercised by two boards—the board of public service and the board of public safety.

The former will control most departments of the city government, except the police and fire departments, with full power to hire and discharge employees and to fix their number and compensation, and without any civil service regulations to hamper it. This board is to be elected by the people.

The other board is to control the police and fire departments with powers similar to those exercised by the public service board.

The members of this board are to be nominated by the mayor, but if the council does not confirm the nominations by a two-thirds vote within thirty days the governor is to appoint the members.

This is a nice scheme for making at least a part of the government of every city an adjunct of the state party machine. If the mayor is a Democrat while the governor is a Republican the chances are that more than one-third of the members of the council will be Republicans, and they can throw the appointment of the board

TRUSTS OR ANTITRUSTS?

The question to be decided on Monday, Nov. 4, is how to vote. If the Republicans hold their own in this election or are able to organize the House of Representatives, it will be held as deciding that the protective tariff is imposed by the voters. Such a result will even be interpreted to mean that there are no bad trusts and that the American people are willing to pay more for trust products than the trust is asking the foreigner to pay. In short, the voter will "stand pat" with Senator Hanna, although they know they have a losing hand in the trust and tariff game.

If the Democrats gain the lower house of congress and carry the legislature of some states that are now represented by Republican United States senators, it will be notice to the protectionists that their days are numbered and that monopoly is to be unthrone!

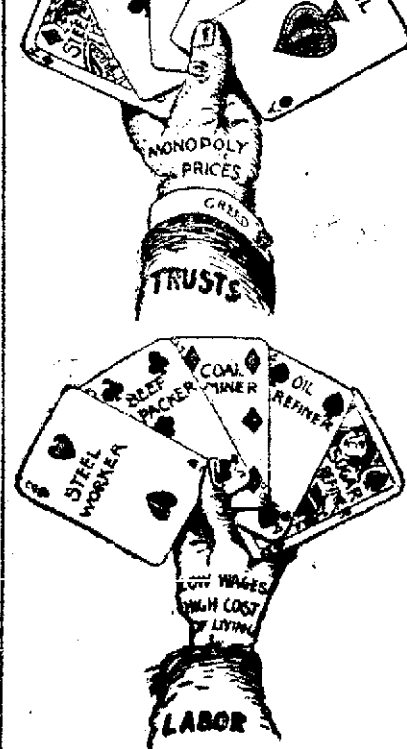

To show that these issues between the parties is not exaggerated, and that the Republicans really stand for protection to the trusts and the Democrats for placing trust productions on the free list, it is only necessary to take the known utterances of the nominees of both parties on these questions.

Of all the 300 and over Republican candidates only one, Mr. Foss of Massachusetts, has been quoted as declaring for any relief from trust exactions. He wants free coal, free iron, free hides and free wool. He does not say he wants them to help the people, but as a relief to the manufacturers of the country who use those raw materials. For such a small expression of free trade the Republican machine managed by Senator Lodge, the Home Market club and the other Republican auxiliary organizations did all they could to defeat him.

It is true that Secretary Moody and perhaps others have declared for free anthracite coal, but as there is no true anthracite anywhere in the known world that equals the Pennsylvania product it requires no argument to show that after the extraordinary prices that now prevail for hard coal recede to the normal level none will be imported. So the taking off the duty on anthracite and leaving it on bituminous coal will not affect the price to the American consumer.

Is any other Republican candidate for congress in favor of free raw products? If so, now is the time for him to lift up his voice and declare it. On the other hand, nearly every Democratic candidate is either pledged by his platform or has openly declared for free trade in trust productions. The declarations of the Democrats also call for a reduction of the tariff to a reasonable basis.

So there is no doubt of the issue, and it is almost impossible to believe that there is any doubt of the result. It is improbable that a majority of the American people will vote to hurt themselves and help the trusts.

Find the winning hand if both hands take Mark Hanna's advice and "stand pat."

TRUSTS AND THE TRUSTS

The Attorney General Must Act or Get Out of the Office.

SO SAYS THE ANTITRUST LEAGUE

An Open Letter to President Roosevelt What is Couched in the Plainest of Anglo-Saxon Words—A Re-statement of Trusts Instead of Champion of the Law.

An open letter was mailed on July 10 to President Roosevelt by the executive committee of the Antitrust League of America. The letter is couched in the plainest of Anglo-Saxon words.

The committee relate in detail the treatment they received from the attorney general when they visited him, by instruction of the president, to lay before him their case against the Eastern Railroad association. The officials of the league assume that the president is not informed of the summary manner in which they assert the matter laid before the attorney general was dismissed.

Referring to the president's speech at Pittsburgh and his discussion of the subject of trusts, the committee say: "We presented to you, Mr. President, in person a cord of incriminating evidence against the Eastern Railroad association at the White House, in Washington, Dec. 21, 1901, which you personally assured us would be by you called to the attention of the attorney general. On your recommendation communicated to us April 5, 1902, through your secretary we, on May 21, called at the office of the attorney general and found him absent. At the White House an hour later we were informed by the secretary of Mr. Knox that the attorney general had stated that he 'would not take up the case,' even though we had informed him that we presented the matter to him by your direction.

"This was an open defiance of your orders by a subordinate official, the toleration of which by you we do not understand, for on May 27 we had written you fully as to the facts in the case, and when unable to see you delivered the letter with our own hands to your messenger at the White House. "Such action on your part forces us to the conclusion that some of your subordinates and advisers are keeping back from you full knowledge of the most reprehensible action and inaction of Attorney General Knox, which has become so culpable and notorious that an eminent jurist and member of congress (Mr. Wooten of Texas) deliberately and after full investigation of all the facts in the case openly in the house of representatives charged the attorney general with 'corrupt compliance toward the known violators of the law.'"

The text of Mr. Wooten's speech is quoted. Attention is called to the absence of all denial of his statements by any official until the Fourth of July speech of the president. Of this the letter says: "We have a right to insist that a bare denial, even by the president of the United States, of these well proved charges is no sufficient defense for Mr. Knox."

It is alleged that the evidence in the case submitted to the attorney general was filed with the president. The statement is made that if the president has knowledge of the facts and evidence and still continues to uphold the attorney general, then, referring to the president, "your conduct is equally reprehensible with his and will be even more severely condemned by the people of the United States."

Continuing, this open letter says: "An honest enforcement of the law is now prevented by the collusion existing between the attorney general and the criminal trusts. If Mr. Knox is permitted longer to prostitute the department of justice to such base uses, the people will hold you responsible, for it is within your power, Mr. President, to retire him to merited disgrace and fill his place with an attorney general who will enforce the laws equally against the rich and the poor without fear, favor or hope of reward."

The letter states that the suit against the beef trust was a vote getting affair, and that the "brazen assurance" of the anthracite coal trust only "deepens the feeling of the people that the trusts have a friend at court in the person of the attorney general." The open letter concludes: "Your assumption, Mr. President, that the cure for the oppressions and robberies of the trusts is to come from some future congress enacting a new antitrust law does not come with good grace from the chief executive officer of the government, whose main duty is to execute the laws now on the statute books."

"But three courses are open to you—either you must compel your attorney general to act, you must remove him from office and appoint one who will, or you must stand convicted as tolerating his corrupt complaisance toward known violators of the law. "The menace to the people's rights and to the safety of the republic from the gigantic and lawless power of the trusts fully warrants us in using plain language in this letter, and we feel that we are entitled to plain and prompt action on your part."

BAD WRECK ON C. H. & I. ROAD,

In Which a Former Lima Man Was Seriously Injured.

Passenger Train Collided With Cut of Freight Cars—Engineer and Two Tramps Instantly Killed—Charlie Long Injured.

The C. H. & I. railroad company has suffered the misfortune of another disastrous wreck, a passenger train on the C. H. & I. division crashing into a cut of freight cars at Oxford last night. Conductor Charles Long, formerly of this city, is named among the injured, and engineer Conn, father of engineer "Billy" Conn, of the Lima-Cincinnati division, was instantly killed. Reports received in Lima this morning state that conductor Long was killed but these reports could neither be confirmed or officially denied today. Mr. Long's parents reside in Piqua and he is well known in this city, having run trains on the Lima-Cincinnati division for a number of years.

Following is the first account of the disaster, sent out from Oxford last night:

One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway occurred at about 10:18 o'clock last night, when two cars broke away from a freight train that was standing on the main track here, preparatory to taking a siding, and ran into the Chicago passenger train that had left Cincinnati a short while before.

The passenger train is due to arrive here at 10:18 o'clock, and the wreck occurred about two miles south of this city, when the two freight cars crashed into the oncoming Chicago train.

Engineer Instantly Killed.

The two freight cars were heavily laden, the one with wheat, the other with hogs, and since the track, from Oxford southward is a steep down grade, they attained a terrible momentum, and when they crashed into the passenger train, the locomotive was reduced to a mass of useless iron in the twinkling of an eye.

The engineer of the passenger train, known familiarly to the passengers and the employees of the road as "Old Man" Conn, was instantly killed. His body was badly mutilated. Two tramps who had evidently been riding on the truck of the main car, were also instantly killed.

Their horribly crushed bodies are now lying under the remnants of the car, for the main car, as well as the baggage car and two passenger day-coaches, immediately ignited, and were soon a mass of seething flames.

Many Seriously Injured.

Nearly all the passengers of the two day coaches were more or less injured by the frightful impact of the freight cars with the swift oncoming passenger train, and it is feared that several of them have sustained injuries from which they can never recover.

Mail Clerk John Connors, of Hamilton, Ohio, was seriously if not fatally hurt. He sustained a fracture of the right leg, and complains of pains in his back, which, it is said, the attending ing physicians and surgeons believe may indicate internal injuries.

Conductor Law, of the passenger train, is also one of the many who were seriously injured.

Unknown Cincinnati.

Fireman Arns, the mate of the dead engineer, was also seriously injured. In addition to cuts and bruises, he was badly scalded by the escaping steam from the broken pipes of the big locomotive.

In addition to the engineer, who was killed outright, one passenger in the smoker car was so frightfully injured that he died soon after the more fortunate passengers of the train had carried him to a place of safety. His name cannot be learned at this hour, but it is known that the fourth dead man was rather old and is thought to be a resident of Cincinnati.

Scenes of Anguish.

Awful scenes of anguish and suffering were enacted at the scene of the catastrophe, and the cries of maimed women and children mingled with the calls of the male passengers as they were aiding the injured members of the train crew to disentangle the human beings from the twisted mass of iron bars and the huge pieces of kindling wood into which the beautiful coaches had been reduced by the collision.

The two sleeping cars were the only coaches in the train of the passenger train that did not leave the track, and to the fact that they were left standing is due the salvation of other lives.

Nearly all the passengers on the sleeping cars were asleep at the time of the collision, and while all of them were more or less injured and shaken up they were able to scramble from their berths and lend aid to the injured.

Frightful Velocity.

The velocity of the freight cars at the time they encountered the passenger train must have been something terrible for the damage wrought to the train indicates that the momentum must have been nearly equal to that of a whole train, running at the rate of 50 miles an hour on a level track.

The freight train from which the two cars escaped that caused all the loss of life and damage had headway enough on the down grade to justify the belief that they were speeding along at the rate of over 60 miles an hour.

Their loss from the freight train of the crew of the freight train was not at once known to all the members of the crew of the freight train until knowledge of the collision had reached Oxford. It is believed that the two cars slipped away by reason of a broken coupling, as the freight crew was not making any couplings at the time they got away.

The passenger train left Cincinnati at 4:45 p. m., and as a rule carries a fair number of passengers every night on the journey to Chicago.

dent has resigned. T. H. Pindell, now superintendent of the Greenwood Lake division will succeed Mr. Corbett in charge of the Susquehanna and Toga Divisions. J. B. Tucker will succeed Mr. Pindell, and E. T. Resler of Rochester, N. Y., will succeed Mr. Tucker.

A New Terminal Plan.

W. G. Wagenhals, formerly General Manager of the Millcreek Valley electric road, has a plan for bringing the trains of steam railroads over elevated tracks to a passenger station within a block or two of Fountain square. The cost, it is said, would be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

Mr. Wagenhals' plan is to connect the elevated tracks with the railroad tracks in the bottoms. Electric locomotives are to pull the trains through the city to the proposed passenger station. As proposed, the elevated road is to carry at least two, and perhaps three tracks.

It is understood Mr. Wagenhals has submitted his plans to the president of one of the railroads entering the city, and has held several conferences with him regarding the plans. While it is not known positively, it is believed that President Woodford, of the C. H. & I. is the gentleman Mr. Wagenhals has been conferring with regarding the plan for elevated tracks.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

INJURIES

In an Unconscious Condition.

Capt. Jas. L. Hughes' Life in Jeopardy

From the Effects of Injuries Received Yesterday in a Collision With a Delivery Wagon.

John L. Hughes, one of Lima's pioneers and a veteran resident, around whom hovers the generous appreciation of a public which knows him as a man of beautiful and sterling qualities, lies at his home on the brink of death. Yesterday Mr. Hughes was found in an unconscious condition at the corner of Pierce and Market streets, but the cause of it was a matter of uncertainty until the true facts were elicited by a representative of the Times-Democrat today.

In spite of his years, Mr. Hughes continued along the lines of a busy man having in his charge the collection of rents and the overseeing of real estate at his office on the public square, and it was while on his way home yesterday that he met with an accident which will probably close the long and fulsome years of a life well spent.

It was learned that John H. Stolzenbach was the first man to reach Mr. Hughes after he was observed in a prostrated condition at the intersection of Market and Pierce streets and when interviewed this morning, Mr. Stolzenbach made the following statement:

"I was going west yesterday and crossed to the south side of Market street just a short distance behind Mr. Hughes. The latter observed me across the street and hailed me with the remark, 'How do you do, Mr. Stolzenbach. His fine weather, isn't it?' To which I replied in kind. I had gone but a short distance when I heard a cry of distress and turned to see Mr. Hughes lying prostrate in the street which crossed Pierce. I hastened to him and was the first to arrive. When I lifted him to a sitting position he answered but a single word to my inquiry if he was hurt.

"West" was the only response I got and seeing that he was in a serious condition, I hurried those who had arrived in the meantime to get both a doctor and an ambulance. Before the ambulance arrived, Mr. Laudick passed by in his buggy and Mr. Hughes was taken by him to the Hughes home on west Market street."

There was an opinion prevailing, that Mr. Hughes had been struck by a delivery wagon belonging to Heinegers' department store on the public square, but it was not until this morning that Edwin Smith, a lad of fifteen, had acknowledged having run down Mr. Hughes and possibly caused the injury which will result in his death.

According to the attending physicians, Mr. Hughes suffered a severe concussion of the brain and a severe vomiting spell followed which brought quantities of blood from the stomach. He has not regained consciousness and it is the conclusion that the accident will prove fatal.

BLOOD WINE

READ LIKE MIRACLES

Mrs. Irving Mack, of Cambridge, Mass., writes:

"I had the grip, and it left me a perfect wreck. My appetite was all gone, my nerves were all unstrung. I was wasted to a skeleton. Everybody said to me, 'You look like a ghost.' I couldn't sleep. I struggled against my sufferings, despite their growing intensity, but I failed completely, and I made up my mind that unless I soon received help I must die. The medicines I took seemed to do me no good, and I was truly a pitiable object. I was white as a sheet and so weak I could hardly walk along the street without staggering. My friends were constantly telling me that I had consumption or some mysterious incurable disease. At length, through the blessing of Divine Providence, I heard of the discovery of a medicine which would do wonderful things. This medicine was 'Blood Wine.' I sent for some of it and began to take it, and the result was simply marvelous. As true as I live, that medicine alone entirely cured me and made me a well woman. Lots of my neighbors who know all about it will stand by me in everything I have said. My health now is excellent and I do my work with a light heart and a strong body."

CURES RHEUMATISM

"My son Elton had suffered for a long time with an aggravated case of rheumatism, which caused him most intense pain, and which daily grew worse in spite of careful medical treatment. 'Many remedies were suggested, and were given a careful trial, but without good result. A friend recommended 'Blood Wine,' and although our experience with other preparations had been such as to cause us to doubt whether it would benefit him or not, we were delighted to find that, after Elton had taken two bottles he showed signs of improvement; and now, after having taken several bottles more, he is well and strong again. I cannot say too much in favor of 'Blood Wine,' and heartily recommend it to all suffering from rheumatism."

CURED OF CONSUMPTION

"Last winter I caught a cold which settled on my lungs, and for weeks I was unable to get out of the house. As spring drew near, the cold wore off, but left me with a rasping cough, which caused me the greatest alarm. Nothing seemed to stop it; physicians told me that I had developed consumption, and that they could do little for me, except to make my life easier unless I should go to another climate. I was very weak, my skin feverish and my appetite absolutely gone. A friend advised me to try 'Blood Wine,' and from the very first it helped me. My strength came back slowly but surely. I began to enjoy my food. Life became worth living, and today I am absolutely well."

WAS ALMOST DEAD WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE

"I have been a sufferer from general debility, liver and kidney complaint, chills and fever, headache and lameness of the joints, cold hands and feet. I was a physical wreck; had been treated by some of the best doctors as could be found, and taken nearly all kinds of patent medicines, but it all availed nothing. I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to find a cure. This is a case of twenty years' standing. I got so far gone that I could not work more than six or eight hours per day, when I would become perfectly exhausted. I was recommended by Messrs. Glynn & Larey to try 'Blood Wine,' which I am glad to state has proved very satisfactory. I have gained strength, health, vigor, and am able to carry on my daily labor with the greatest ease. I would say that if this should reach the eyes of any sufferers from such complaints they should try 'Blood Wine,' which is a safe and a sure cure, full of tonic value, without danger of disturbing the action of the heart or stomach."

HIGH

Speed Traveled by Detrow

Who is Held

For an Alleged Case of Crooked Work.

His Home is at Delphos But the Arrest Occurred at Napoleon.

For Several Years He Has Been Travelling for a Drug House and as Such Made Many Friends in Lima.

M. R. Detrow, whose home is at Delphos, but who has been traveling for a drug firm at Napoleon, O., is in trouble, and practically acknowledges being at fault. The accused is well known in Lima where he has made frequent visits during the past two years, having business with the medical fraternity. He was of a pleasant genial nature, one who made friends easily, and it will be with sincere regret that the disclosure of his alleged dishonesty is learned. The Delphos Herald gives the matter considerable attention, and the article is here reproduced:

A case of more than usual interest, which concerns a Delphos man, has come to light. M. R. Detrow, who has been a resident of Jefferson street for some time, is now in the hands of the law. Detrow was employed by W. E. Floding, druggist, some two years and six months ago as traveling salesman calling on the physicians in the surrounding towns and taking orders for drugs.

He was considered a good salesman and succeeded in working up a nice trade for Mr. Floding. Matters went along apparently in a smooth manner until some weeks ago when Mr. Floding noticed that there was something certainly wrong in Mr. Detrow's collections for goods that had been sold. An investigation was commenced and it was soon found from indications that Detrow had apparently been doing some crooked work.

Detrow was in possession of a key to the store and, it seems, had access to the books. In various instances it was found that the amounts for goods that had been sold by him had been scratched or rubbed from the books and another substituted. He was apprehended upon the subject, and when confronted, admitted the charges.

Detrow was employed by Mr. Floding under bond for $300, in men living at Continental. This occurred about three weeks ago and the party at Continental who guaranteed the faithful performance of Detrow's duties was sent for. A conference was held and the situation laid before Detrow. He then admitted that he was responsible for the shortage, and, after realizing the consequences, he broke down. Mr. Floding, who wished to have no trouble, agreed to give Mr. Detrow a second chance and he was allowed to go on as before, and Mr. Detrow was to work for less salary until the shortage was made good. He went to work, as agreed, but his actions were such that were not at all pleasing to Mr. Floding and a halt was called.

It was at first thought to have Detrow arrested in this town, but as some of his supposed acts relating to the shortage were committed in Putnam county, he was arrested by his bondsmen at Continental, Saturday. According to a letter received by Mr. Floding, he was given a preliminary hearing and waived examination and was bound over to the Putnam county grand jury. Detrow furnished bail and says he intends to make up the shortage before the grand jury convenes.

The many friends of Mrs. Detrow are sorry to hear of her misfortune, and hope that all matters will be righted before anything further develops in the case. Mr. Detrow also enjoyed a large circle of friends in Delphos who are surprised to learn of the charges brought against him.

The shortage on Mr. Floding's books which Detrow is charged with, amounts to something between $200 and $400, and there will probably be others that have not yet shown up. In addition to the above charges, Detrow is alleged to have taken various other articles from Mr. Floding's store and sold them while on his rounds, for which it is said, he never accounted.

GREAT GROWTH

Of Fruit and Vegetable Industry in Texas.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—The wonderful growth of the fruit and vegetable industry in Texas is shown by records of the different railroads of the state of the shipments handled during the last year. These shipments were consigned for the most part to St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, while scattering carloads went to New York and distant markets in the North and East. Five years ago, there were fewer than 50 cars of fruits and vegetables shipped from Texas to outside markets. The shipments for the season just closed aggregated nearly 6,000 cars and included peaches, berries, tomatoes, watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes, cabbage, onions, pears, cucumbers, beans, plums and apples.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Charles H. Fletcher

For the benefit of the public library there is to be published on Thanksgiving day a special edition of one of the city papers. A number of ladies from different parts of the city have consented to use their time to help make it a great success. The business men will be invited to represent their firms in the paper and will be called upon in a few days for that purpose. The object of this is to start a fund for the purchase of a site for the library building, which has been offered this city by Mr. Carnegie and further for the purchase at once of new books for the present library.

Five thousand copies of the paper will be sold in Lima and the surrounding towns and it will be of such general interest that no one will be seen on Thanksgiving day without a copy of this paper in his hand. Turkeys and cranberry sauce will be forgotten by young and old alike and instead all will be devouring these pages with such interest that nothing will stop them until they have read it through from cover to cover.

Ira D. Rickard, Duncombe, Ia., writes: "My little boy scalded his leg from the knee to the ankle. I used Banner Salve immediately and in three weeks time it was almost entirely healed. I want to recommend it to every family and advise them to keep Banner Salve on hand as it is a sure remedy for scalds or any other sores."

SPORTS.

The Findlay and Fostoria basketball teams will play their initial game of the season at Reeves Park this evening.

In order to make some kind of a showing against Fostoria, Findlay has secured the services of a professional coach for the high school foot ball team and will go in for the style of college playing.

A tragedy without a parallel is reported from Morrisport, a hamlet in Belmont county. During a ball game near there, Sunday, Stanton Walker, with others was seated on a fence, watching the contest. Walker had asked a companion for a knife which had just been handed him with the blade pointing toward his body, when a batted ball struck Walker's hand and the end of the knife handle with such force that the blade was driven into the young man's heart. He fell from the fence and died without a word or groan.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. At any drug store, 50 cents.

I never received any permanent benefit from any medicine until I tried Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles, I am cured."

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN THE OPERA HOUSE TOMORROW NIGHT.

DIED

From Effects of His Injuries.

Long Suffering

Ended in Death After Two Weeks.

There was Hope for Recovery Until Lockjaw Made Its Appearance.

Charlie Howard's Leap from an Electric Car was a Leap Into the Jaws of Death as Results Proved.

Charles E. Howard, who was so badly injured two weeks ago yesterday in jumping from a rapidly moving Wayne street car, near Baxter street, died at 7:45 last night. The untimely death of this young man is very sad, as he was the support of a widowed mother, Mrs. Hannah Howard, with whom he made his home at 411 north Jackson street, where his death occurred.

The injuries which brought about his death happened in a peculiar and unusual manner. On October 15th after Mr. Howard had received his pay from the C. H. & D. car for the month of September, he came down town to settle some little accounts, and in boarding a car at High street, intending to go to his home, he mistook a Wayne street car for a depot car and did not discover his mistake until the car was nearing Baxter street, when, without awaiting for the car to stop, he jumped off, and was thrown heavily to the paved street, the fall inflicting a terrible injury to the side of his head at the base of the brain.

He was removed to his home and Mrs. Wendock and Wendock and Huntley dressed his wounds. It was thought that he would recover until about a week ago, when lock jaw set in. All that medical skill could do was done, but the hand of death could not be stayed. He has been in the employ of the bridge builders under Superintendent Overly, of the C. H. & D., for a long period of years and was an industrious and skilled workman. He removed to this city from Sidney with his mother and sister, when the bridge builders were transferred from that place to Lima several years ago. He carried an insurance policy in the C. H. & D. mutual.

Charles E. Howard was born in Sidney, Feb. 22nd 1914 and to mourn his sad death are his mother, Mrs. Hannah Howard, the sister, Miss Lucile Howard, who is employed at Feldmann's store, and his aged grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Ryan, also of this city, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in their sad bereavement. The requiem mass over the remains will be held at St. Rose church tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock and at the conclusion of the services the relatives will leave with the remains at 8:55 over the C. H. & D. for Sidney. Upon their arrival there the body will be taken to the home of the deceased's uncle Judge Wyman, where they will rest until Saturday morning when the burial services will be held at Holy Angels church. Burial will be made in Calvary cemetery.

Boxing, Wrestling, Fencing and a Hotly Contested Basket Ball Game

Were Some of the Features Introduced by the Business Men's Club at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night.

The business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. gave an entertainment last night in which a number took part, the program starting off with a dumb-bell drill conducted by Physical Director Shepard, in which a score or more appeared attired in the habiliments which admitted of free play of muscles. After the class exhibition the special program was carried out as advertised, beginning with a wrestling contest between Dr. Jones and Thaddeus Trout. Although Dr. Jones had the advantage of size, weight and experience, Trout kept him alive to the work and succeeded in putting the doctor's shoulders to the mat once during the five round bout of two minutes each. The doctor won the contest but without a struggle, which brought into play all of his strength and science.

Following the contest was a fencing bout between Mr. Cuthbert and Max Michael, both of whom displayed the nice points without any of the Alfonso and Gaston apologies. But for the protection of wire works, gauntleted hands, chest protections, and blunt foils, the opponents would have let out enough life blood to have constituted a tragedy.

The blind boxing match between Messrs. Basinger and Webb was a rip roaring farce which added interest to the evening's entertainment. Following it was a genuine contest of five rounds for points between Dr. A. L. Jones and R. D. Macdonald, which the referee declared a draw. It was a fine exhibition of an art which has been much abused, because of participation by those who match themselves for a money consideration and face brutal punishment until the victor for his bleeding opponent.

Basket ball game between a team composed of members of the business men's club closed the program. One side was captained by L. E. Kibby and the other by Walter J. Renna. Mr. Kibby's side winning, after a stubborn contest by a score of 16 to 8.

There was a good sized audience present and that the entertainment was appreciated was evidenced by the applause which greeted the appearance of the contestants and their good showing. The Y. M. C. A. is just now in the very height of its glory and the membership is increasing daily.

Several Rivers to Cross.

Kenton is making a great how-to-do over an approaching basket ball game with the west side Chicago Y. M. C. A. team, which is hailed as the champions in last year's national contest. If the Kenton papers kept due track of the results it would be well known, unless purposely disguised, that the central Y. M. C. A. of Chicago defeated the west side, but as purposes of an advertisement the attitude of the Kenton press might pass muster. Kenton's defeat of the west side will not deliver the championship in spite of the contention, and Lima also holds the right to dispute the result whatever it may be.

Lima Meets Ada.

The Lima college and second Ohio Normal University team of Ada, will meet on the gridiron Friday at the fair grounds for the final contest of the season. A game of this character should receive the attendance and plaudits of every enthusiast of Lima, not alone because of the merits of the game, but the need of the Lima team to make up a deficiency and pay the debts that have accumulated. Lima is in a position to put up a strong game and as Ada has the talent to compete for every point, the contest is sure to prove interesting. The game will be called at 2:30.

CHARMING

Was the Wedding That was Celebrated

At the Home of Mrs. Sarah Rockhill, Last Night.

Her Daughter Miss Ethel, Became the Bride of Mr. Houston Spyker.—A Beautifully Appointed Affair.

One of the most charming of autumn weddings was the one last evening at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rockhill, on west Wayne street, the bride being her daughter, Ethel and the groom, Mr. Houston Spyker. The cozy rooms were artistically decorated with choice pink chrysanthemums and garlands of smilax formed curtains at each door way.

Just before the appointed hour, Mrs. Clement Baxter sang "Still as the Night," by Bohm; Miss Madge Mitchell played her accompaniment and at nine o'clock played the Lohengrin wedding march, announcing the bridal party. The maid of honor, a niece of the bride, Miss Florence McMahon, in a gown of pink silk muslin and carrying brides maid roses tied with long pink ribbons, led the wedding party, coming down stairs and through the parlor to the east window. Just back of her came the bride, in a typical wedding gown of snowy white orkandie, made with wide diagonal tucks on the skirt, with medallions of lace beading the deep tucked sounce. The waist was also tucked diagonally with a yoke and bertha of lace. Her bouquet was a fragrant one of lilies of the valley and a tulle veil completely covered her. As she entered the parlor, the groom advanced from the south doorway and met her. Dr. R. J. Thomson was near by stationed, and Charles Rockhill, the brother of the bride, gave her to the man of her choice, while the impressive marriage ceremony was read in the presence of only the near and dear ones in the circle of relatives and a very few intimate friends, who were all ready to wish the young couple many years of wedded bliss.

RABBITS

Are Protected by the State Game Laws.

State Game Warden J. C. Porterfield is sending out notices to all deputies to notify all dealers that it is unlawful to sell shot or shell to boys under fourteen years of age.

The law will be rigidly enforced. The statements which have been made in the papers, throughout Ohio, in the effect that rabbits may be killed and had in possession the year round, are bad mistakes. By referring to article 6461 of the Ohio game laws it will be seen that the open season is November 10 to December 1, inclusive, and anyone caught hunting rabbits in the closed season will be punished to the full extent of the law.
